Good afternoon to you all this is Gina Langsfield, welcoming you once more on behalf of the SAGB to our Sunday get together. For those joining us on Zoom please welcome today's medium John Jemmett, and of course our chair-person Peter Smith.

Would you please like to join me in prayer

Dear God, loving Spirit

Please help us to serve you in anyway available to us and to have trust always that you guide us and walk with us throughout each step of our lives both here on earth and in the joyous world of eternal Spirit life.

Amen

The poem that I am going to read for you today is called 'When love calls across the veil'

My darling, always rest assured, though you cannot hear the words I speak, I try in every way within my power to bring the evidence you seek that I am ever with you. And that so called death, did not us part, though still I am your soul companion and you the keeper of my heart.

Do you notice sometimes, when you feel at your most forlorn and low that suddenly for no explainable reason you feel a hopeful glow...that is I drawing close my darling and trying to impress my presence and, you are feeling my Spirit hand in sweet caress, notice too when you feel fearful then for reasons you cannot explain a sudden calm engulfs you and you feel things will be alright again, that is I my dearest, whispering words of comfort in your ear.

Can you not close your eyes and sense my finger as I brush away a tear. Those times when you suddenly want to laugh recalling a shared long ago secret joke, it is usually I who chose to remind you and you have, heard the words I have spoke. Then you may get a sudden urge which comes right out the blue to travel to a place we loved, it is because I wish to take that trip with you.

So often darling when we are still sitting close together, though you may not see my face, I kiss you and you'll feel secure and safe because you're being held in my unseen embrace. You may not see or hear me but I know you have an inner knowing that our life together carries on and upon you I am bestowing the greatest gift in God's creation the realisation that love cannot die, that dimensional frequency cannot separate us.

Nothing can sever the link that is you and I. So when love calls across the veil enter it with trust and joy in your heart and know that whatever your earthly journey brings your way, you and I are not apart, for no force is greater than the power of love, two hearts which beat as one.

Be at peace and know we are still together in a wonderful journey barely yet begun.

On behalf of our manager Karl and the trustees, our staff, mediums, healers and as always myself, may Spirit stand close to you always.

For those who joined us today on Zoom back over now to Peter Smith.
