Remembering Rosemary Brown

researched by Jackie Poole

Rosemary Isabel Brown (27th/07/1916 -16th/11/ 2001) (aged 85) was an English composer, pianist and spirit medium. Rosemary Brown wrote hundreds of pieces of music dictated by the various composers in the spirit world and entirely in the style of each composer.

A professor Ian Parrot of music with 30 years' experience participated in a documentary under the watchful gaze of the BBC reporter Peter Dowling and a television studio crew saying that it was undoubtedly a most spectacular event with unusual pieces of trance music with strong harmonies, cross rhythms and said it would be 'difficult to fake'. This is actually the same concept as the trance medium painter, Florencio Anton, who some of us have seen here at the SAGB in trance action, and on more than one occasion here, producing many paintings from the known artists in the spirit world; working super-fast and in their own individual recognised styles, and I am talking about distinguishable paintings.

Rosemary Brown said that she was a dedicated and practising member of the Anglican church which she said meant more to her than anything else; following the best of any good teachings in her daily life, but she also said that she had often received premonitions from the spirit world and that she didn't set out to delve into the future but if she could help somebody by passing on a timely message then she was happy to do so. When we know more about life after death, when we realise it's a wonderful reality, let's hope that fear of death; the fear of the actual transition and of what is to come then the fear will be wiped out for all of us.

When Rosemary was seven years old, she reported that a spirit with long white hair had appeared and told her he was a composer and would make her a famous musician one day. She had no idea who he was until around 10 years later; while she had been working at a post office from the age of 15, when she saw a picture of the composer Franz Liszt, and even later still when she was 32 years old in 1948, she acquired a second-hand upright piano. She had 3 years of lessons in how to play this piano, which is actually not enough training to be able to produce what was to come about.

The spirit of Franz Liszt Renewed contact with Rosemary again and began transcribing original compositions she said were dictated to her by great musicians of the past, these musicians included: Johan Brahms, Bach, Schubert, Chopin, Ludwig van Beethoven and Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart among others.

She said that each composer had his own way of dictating to her for example Franz Liszt controlled her hands for a few bars at a time, and then she wrote down the notes. Chopin told her the notes and pushed her hands onto the right keys. Schubert tried to sing his compositions and Beethoven and Bach simply dictated the notes.

A musical psychologist who supported her called Humphrey Searle; an authority on Franz Liszt had said that they had got to know Rosemary well and believe her to be perfectly genuine and said that she had had no technical training in composition and could not possibly produce pastiches on her own merit.

A professor of psychology John Sloboda wrote that Rosemary's music offers the most convincing case of unconscious composition on a large scale! He was of course saying here that she was producing the music herself subconsciously. Another psychologist had suggested Rosemary maintained that she had never had any musical training aside from some piano lessons, Oh really? However, Rosemary said that when Franz Liszt began his work with her while they were both still awaiting her debut, he warned her that to undertake the task would bring much suffering to her. Remember he said:

“You will be doing battle not just for us but for God and humanity it is a desperate attempt to bring peace and enlightenment to the human race. Many will scorn you even your own friends may turn against you but we will never fail you. when you are belittled do not lose heart for the strong arms of God are beneath you to uphold your soul.”

Since then, Rosemary said:

“I have been the butt of ridicule for the ignorant and the learned alike. Friends have proved false and deserted me human nature has proved frailer than I had ever expected. The music was originally sent to convince people that there is a life after death.”

Rosemary said in 1986 in her publication of the book “Look Beyond Today” which I highly recommend, that she accepted all of what some people would say are ‘strange things’ that can happen as perfectly normal to her. She was aware that most people need some kind of proof of the abilities that she claimed to have and, in her experience, the most convincing episodes have all happened completely spontaneously and sometimes without her own understanding at all about what was going on; quite often she was left in the dark as to the full meaning of the communication until sometime later when all was revealed.

Today her music can be heard on platforms such as YouTube, Spotify and even Apple Music, just in case anyone here today or reading this would like to give it a listen.

SEVEN PRINCIPLES OF THE SAGB

We believe in an Infinite Intelligence,
Who governs all.

We believe that personal identity and all sentient forms of life survive physical death.

We believe that continuous existence and eternal progress occur for all in the Hereafter.

We believe in communion with spiritual realms.

We believe that all humanity is spiritually linked.

We believe that in the Hereafter, all must account for their actions on earth and will judge themselves accordingly.

We believe that all are responsible for the way they conduct their earthly lives.

OUR PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the Association is to offer evidence, through mediumship, of the continuation of the personality after physical death and to relieve suffering through spiritual healing.

Turning all their nights of darkness
Into glorious day
Loving Father hear us, hear us

Gracious Spirit, should'st thou claim them
Be their Light and Guide
Lead them to the heavenly kingdom
Safely by thy side
Loving father hear us, hear us

Getting to the SAGB

Getting to the SAGB has become a lot easier for those of us north of the river. At present I have to catch the Northern Line, change to the Victoria Line to Victoria Station and then catch a train to Battersea Park Station.

As of the end of September 2021 the Northern Line is running with four trains an hour on week-ends. This will mean, for me at least, that I can travel on the Northern Line from my home to Battersea Park on the same train. Thereafter it will be a short seven minute walk to the SAGB.

Now the extension has opened there will be an initial peak of six trains per hour, increasing to 12 trains per hour. During off-peak times there will be five trains per hour, doubling to 10.

Helping to get to the SAGB (after all that is what counts, isn't it) it will help regenerate the Vauxhall, Nine Elms and Battersea areas by supporting new jobs, businesses and homes.

The SAGB Will be closed for the Easter Break

From end of day Thursday April 2nd and reopen Tuesday April 7th
